Welcome to Enfield Construction Skills Academy

Meridian Water is a 25-year regeneration project that will deliver up to 10,000 new homes and 6,000 new jobs, with the first homes being occupied from the summer of 2023.

Enfield Council and Countryside Partnerships are committed to ensuring that the local community benefit from the long-term regeneration project.

A key part of this is providing jobs and training opportunities. Together they have founded and built a new Construction Skills Academy located at the Meridian Water site, the College of Haringey, Enfield and North East London have been appointed to run and manage this.

The Enfield Construction Skills Academy provides pre-construction and Construction Skills Certification Scheme (CSCS) card training and apprenticeships in brickwork, plastering, carpentry and a range of introductory courses to upskill students to progress onto careers in construction.

Enfield Construction Skills Academy will work actively with the College of Haringey, Enfield and North East London to provide construction training. It will provide additional training alongside an apprenticeship or study, using the college's purpose-built workshops.
